FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MARKET.

Public Ledger Office, Memphis, Tenn., July 23, 1895.

The money market this morning presented no new features of interest. Madison street presented rather a dull and blue appearance. The gloomy weather and fear of too much rain and an overflood gave Madison street circles a black eye to-day. Currency continues in good supply, with money comparatively easy. The discount market remains quiet and unchanged, first-class paper ruling at 8@10 per cent. Annum; on the streets money is in demand at 2@3 per cent. A month for short loans. Brokers are paying 110@110 1/2 for gold, with light transactions. Exchange is in light supply, with a light demand at the following rates: On New York and Eastern points buying at par and selling at 1/2 premium; New Orleans, to discount buying and selling at par. Local and foreign securities continue dull and nominally unchanged. The only movement is in police and fire scrip, which rules at 90@95c. We learned of several small lots that were sold yesterday at 95c.

COTTON.
 The market this morning opened firm, with light offerings. The rain and gloomy weather had a tendency to retard the handling of cotton. Estimated sales for the day, 100 bales. New York spots were firm, with large anticipated sales to spinners; futures were easier. Liverpool was firm and unchanged, with sales of 10,000 bales. New Orleans was firm.

E. WHITMORE.

If we could only read each other's hearts we should be kinder to each other. If we knew the woes and bitterness and physical annoyances of our neighbors, we should make allowances for them which we do not now. We go about masked, uttering stereotyped sentiments, hiding our heart pains and our head-aches as carefully as we can; and yet we wonder that others do not discover them by intuition. We cover our best feelings from the light; we do not conceal our resentments or our dislikes, of which we are prone to be proud. Life is a masquerade at which few unmask, even to their very dearest. And though there is need of much masking, would to heaven we dared show our real faces from birth to death, for then some few, at least, would truly love each other.
